Not far from here, set in rural Wiltshire, is Lacock village, famous for its picturesque streets, historic buildings and its more recent role as a television and film location. The Abbey, located at the heart of the village within its own woodland grounds, is a quirky country house of various architectural styles. We spend some time in the afternoon in Bath, suffused with relics of its Roman past and of course it's famous Bath. From here we continue to Cirencester, set in the heart of the Cotswolds. On the second day, we will discover more of the Cotswold scenery and villages. Our visits will include Bourton on the Water, also known as the 'Venice of the Cotswolds'. It is a picturesque village with many of the traditional features unique to this area. Next stop will be Stow-on-the-Wold, the highest town in the Cotswolds and packed with charming traditional houses. The quaint village of Woodstock cannot be missed to conclude your tour of the area, with a photo stop at Blenheim Palace. In the afternoon we visit Oxford, which you may explore at your own pace. Harry Potter fans might want to see Christ Church, where many scenes from the films have been shot. The grandeur of the Great Hall has formed the basis of Hogwarts Hall!
